MISSOULA---

The University of Montana men's track team will get its first opportunity to show the home folks what it can do this Saturday at the Montana Invitational-Harry Adams Relays at Dornblaser Stadium.

The Grizzly thinclads will face several fine track teams in the college portion of the day's competition. Entries from Spokane Community College, Spokane Falls, Idaho, Calgary, Carroll College, Western Montana and Montana State are expected.

Montana got the season off to a good start last weekend in Boise with dual wins over Boise State and Utah State.

In the prep competition, 10 teams from Montana are expected to run in the Harry Adams Relays. The defending state AA track champion Great Falls Bison, featuring their fine all-around athlete Mike Guon, will be entered in the meet. Billings West brings a very good team to Missoula and of course Sentinel, Hellgate and Kalispell are among the competing teams.

"We will have some great athletes and I expect some fine performances on Saturday," UM Men's Track Coach Harley Lewis said. "It looks like we'll even have beautiful weather for our first home meet."

The field events begin at 11 a.m. on Saturday. Running events begin at 1 p.m. The last event of the day will be run at 3:50 p.m.
